Review of the Week---An Active and Weak Stock Market.

IMPORTS AND EXPORTS.

WALL STREET, SUNDAY, March 2, 1879.

The proverbial bull in the china shop could have carcely found himself in a more perplexing predica ment than did his financial counterfeit upon the Board room floor yesterday, when stocks were and when there was nobody with energy enough even to attempt to save the pieces. So it turned out that the vases of values were pretty thoroughly shattered, and nothing was left to hang about them but the scent of their former splender. The decline during the final hours of the week was, however, nothing more than the natural wind-up of a six days' market which had been characterized by all sorts of per-turbations, and which had slowly but surely settled to a lower range of prices. Reports, more or less true, of internecine trouble within the hitherto happy family of bull operators which had driven its prominent members to take opposite sides, helped to disorganize the market and frighten more timid olders into selling out. The result was a declinewith the marked exception of Western Union-of the whole list of from two to eight per cent. The reatest sufferers were Union Pacific, the anthracites nd New Jersey Central; the least, the Vanderbilt properties. Between these two extremes there was variety enough in quotations to suit the tastes of the most fastidious of bears, but hardly palatable to the most apathetic of bulls. It is not to be inferred. however, that the liquidation of the week was confined to the rank and file of speculation. These only followed the lead of the magnates of the mar-ket who command events, and who had shown the way already. On Friday and Saturday there occurred a determined attack upon Delaware and Lackawanna, which was succeeded by a copious cataract of long stock, and the result was not only to depress this property some five points, but to topple over the rest of the list, which had with difficulty retained its footing for several days previous. It was a paraphrase of the tory of the last straw and the camel's back, and, although the vertebræ of the market cannot be said may take some time to heal up. That it will be healed, however, is beyond conjecture, but the cure may not be effected until such period as prices are pushed low enough to satisfy both parties that the time is ripe for a new and vigorous bull campaign. Among the active stocks the sole exception to the ecline was Western Union. Buffeting the current of adverse legislation and the despondency of the rest of the list the price rose from 100% to 106% and fell back only to 104%, amid all the clatter at the end. The old story of "melon cutting" was revived with very little authority, but it had its effect never-The true reasons for the stock's exceptional strength will probably be found in the belief that any railroad opposition would be more apparent than al, and in the fact that its carnings are very large, and that Mr. Vanderbilt has been an extensive buyer of shares. Money during the week was a shade firmer on the withdrawal of currency for shipment to the Treasury and the West. Some uneasiness is iso felt at the fact that sterling exchange has reached the shipping point for gold, and some of the foreign bankers anticipate that shipments will be made to rable amounts. To sum up, the marke closed feverish and depressed, and at the lowest quotations of the week.

*Ex dividend. The money market was less easy during the past week, and although the bulk of the business in call loans was done at 21/2 a 31/2 per cent, yet on several occasions the rate was as high as 5 a 6 per cent. This hardening of rates was due to large sales of stocks by the larger holders, to a general fear that the government settlements in April may disturb the mar-tet, and to unfavorableness of the bank statements of late. The statement issued yesterday showed a decrease in the surplus reserve of $3,461,775 and of $4,200,000 in total reserve. This brings the surplus reserve down to $5,750,875 against $12,980,950 in the corresponding week of last year. The following is a comparison of the averages of the New York banks for the last two weeks :-

The following shows the relations between the total reserve and the total liabilities :-

Total reserve. $63,308,300 $59,108,300 Dec. $4,200,000

Prime commercial paper was in good demand at 3½ to 4½ per cent. Foreign exchange was very firm and the rates are up to about the specie shipping point. The posted rates are 4.86) and 4.89% for bankers' prime long and demand sterling. Government bonds were firm and active, although large lots of bonds likely to be called are being returned here from abroad. The Secretary made another call during the week for $20,000,000 of the five-twenties of 1867. In State bonds the principal dealings were in Louisiana consols and District of Columbias. The former were again lower, and the latter, after advancing sharply on the proposal to make them receivable like governments, as security for bank circulation, slightly declined. Matters seem to be still in a very unsettled and unsatisfactory state in Richmond regarding the legislation concerning the debt, and the readjusters appear determined to obatruct in every possible manner any settlement of the question. The difficulty in the way of adjustment is that the party headed by Mahone requires that any adjustment of the debt shall be based upon coupons not to be receivable for taxes or dues to the Treasury. This party is now sufficiently strong to have had a be sufficiently strong to continue the agitation of the debt question and agitation before the people after the new law goes into effect. This would prevent holders from funding, except, of course, those who would do so for the purpose of enhancing the value of peelers now on hand. Thus the McCulloh party may fail to obtain the bonds in the required time, and the bill thus become a dead letter, as the new bonds being liable to another attack will not yield enough to authorize funding. The fereign commerce of the port of New York for the past week was as follows:—General merchandise imports, including dry goods, $5,306,018, and produce exports, $6,382,485. The total imports of dry goods and general merchandise since January 1, this year, were $49,977,236, against $49,924,055 for the corre sponding period last year, and $53,068,244 in 1877. The total exports of produce since January 1, this year, were $47,968,051, against $52,446,926 for the corresponding period last year, and $42,875,118 in 1877.
